Market Commentary

Bulls which woke up in last leg of trade mainly helped benchmarks to end near intraday highs on the F&O series expiry day, recapturing their crucial 31,700 (Sensex) and 9,900 (Nifty) levels. Though, markets made a cautious start and extended their fall, as traders remained on sidelines ahead of Gross Domestic Product (GDP) figures to be announced later in the day. Investors also remained concerned with assessment of RBI in its annual report that fiscal consolidation may come under threat at the central and state levels due to the immediate effects of the goods and service tax (GST), loan waivers and pay revisions, putting pressure on the overall growth matrix. However, markets took U-turn and showed strength to enter into green terrain in afternoon deals with traders taking some encouragement with Finance Minister Arun Jaitley's statement that the GST is bound to impact the direct tax collection as well due to the increased detection technology and greater compliance. The Finance Minister also said that even before GST was rolled out, the impact of demonetisation has expanded the number of assessees under the personal income tax.

Firm opening in European markets too aided sentiments ahead of the release of euro zone inflation data due later in the trading session. Asian markets ended mixed on Thursday. Japanese market ended higher despite its industrial production slowing in July from June, as continued strong exports and a cheap yen indicated that the phase is temporary.
