Market Commentary

Thursday turned out to be a fabulous day of trade for Indian equity benchmarks, with frontline gauges settling just shy of their crucial 10,550 (Nifty) and 34,300 (Sensex) levels. Markets after an optimistic start gained momentum and traded jubilantly on private report that the RBI's revised framework for quicker and time-bound resolution of stressed assets is a long-term positive for banks. The report stated that the new framework has the potential to bring about a big change in the approach of banks to monitor their exposures and resolution of NPAs. Markets managed to reconquer their psychological 10,600 (Nifty) and 34,500 (Sensex) levels in noon deals after India's inflation on wholesale level softened for the second consecutive month in January 2018. Wholesale price inflation (WPI) stood at 2.84 percent (provisional) in January as against 3.58 percent (provisional) for the previous month and 4.26 percent during the corresponding month of the previous year. Build up inflation rate in the financial year so far was 2.30 percent compared to a build up rate of 4.55 percent in the corresponding period of the previous year.

Firm opening in European counters too aided sentiments, as investors appeared to take stronger-than-anticipated US inflation data in their stride. Asian markets ended mostly in green, led by around one and a half percent gain in Japanese Nikkei despite the country's core machinery orders tumbled in December at the fastest pace in more than three years.
